

CITB Site Management Safety Training Scheme Refresher

Update your existing Site Management Safety qualification with this refresher package.

This course will update your existing knowledge of health and safety within construction environments and ensure you're up-to-date with all legislation and requirements placed upon you.

Who is the Course Suitable For?

This course is designed for project managers, site managers, supervisors, business proprietors and client-based personnel with responsibility for others within a construction environment.

You must hold a valid CITB Site Management Safety Training Scheme certificate to take part in this course.

What's Covered in the Course?

Over the course of two days, you'll take part in case studies, classroom discussions, group work and individual/group presentations focussed on health and safety within the construction sector.

You will also be expected to undertake some self-studying as part of this course.

Topics covered during this course include:

- The current focus of the Health and Safety executive's attention
- Risk assessment and method statements
- Construction site health, safety and welfare
- Reporting of injuries, diseases and dangerous occurrences regulations (RIDDOR)
- Behavioural safety
- Occupational health
- Overview and changes to the current legislation affecting construction
